

ACLCA MANAGER

The American Center for Life Cycle Assessment is seeking a manager to lead its efforts to new levels of performance. The Individual will be responsible for managing staffing and promoting the Center's programs, including the Center's conference and certification programs and for staffing the Center's permanent and ad-hoc committees.

Applicants should have excellent communication and administrative skills, and should have a credible background in LCA. They must be resident in the United States, either as a citizen or with a green card. Significant travel is expected, but the position does not require relocation.

Please submit a resume with a letter of interest and references via email to staff@iere.org